

Zodiac Signs and Sex

Aries

Rams enjoy sexual pleasures and sex for them is like a hunt. It is more of a tiger where sex is concerned and, like many other sleek animals, loves the hunt. Aries is a physical and fearless lover and is blessed with the stamina to go all night long. They want a partner who is able to satisfy them. They are not afraid to experiment sexually in their quest for pleasure, which means an open-minded lover is a must. The dominant sexual partner will likely be the Ram, and while eroticism is important, this sign also favors a mental connection. Aries do not favor foreplay.

Taurus

Taurus is one appealing package, full of surprises and fun. They can be so sexually appealing that it will become difficult for their partner to cope up with them. They love foreplay and it will go on and on and on. In private, the Bull is an intense partner, and one quite happy to have sensual encounters go on all night long. Taurus loves to create a perfect mood of love making by making an atmosphere of fantasy, creativity, seduction and play. Sex as a release from the more practical aspects of life is often all that the Bull wants. Their partner should always be co-operative and full of enthusiasm.

Gemini

Gemini is very versatile and long for sex that will stimulate their mind and body more than their soul. Their lover has to have variety and the power to experiment and satisfy them at all times. That said, a quickie in the back seat of a fast car is just what the doctor ordered on some days. Most of all, though, sex is a mental sport for Gemini. The act begins in the head and works its way down and around. Gemini is always in search of the perfect lover and the perfect sexual experience. Bottom line: The Twins want something different and something complete. Not too much to ask for, right?

Cancer

Like the rest of their life, a sexual encounter with Cancer is much like a slow dance, but if you've got the right moves, you can have lots fun with the crab. They are no doubt very emotional and think of sex as an emotional experience but once stimulated they can give a mind-blowing experience. Either way, it's pure pleasure for both partners. The Crab is also quite intuitive and can generally sense what their lover wants, which makes love making more fulfilling and satisfying. Cancer's feminine side is often on display in the bedroom, which means the Crab enjoys being made love to. With the Crab, sex often equals love and its nurturing aspects such as home and health, so anyone who can appeal to this sign will have a satisfying sex life and love life.

Leo

Sex with Leo is quite a wild experience and at the same time full of excitement. The Lion wants action first and foremost, and if the moves are being made on them, all the better. They love to dominate their partner but at the same time welcome anything new and exciting and will readily become your slave. Leos are utterly aroused when a partner revels in their beauty and aura and tells them how wonderful it is. As their gracious gift, the Lion will show their partner just how much that compliment meant! The Lion loves seduction and foreplay and adores watching their partner naked. So to please a Lion turn up naked.

Virgo

Virgo's are very sensitive and tender lovers and for them the satisfaction of their lover is the primary object. They want their sexual fantasy to be perfect. Virgos finish what they start in the bedroom, and this cozy chamber is likely to be a dreamy den decorated with discriminating taste. The servant in Virgo is only more than happy to be everything their lover desires; if that lover can bring out Virgo's sensual self, the reward will be a most liberated lover. All their sexual fantasies are kept hidden under wraps and they are basically shy but a partner who understands them will only be able to satisfy them. The lover who can reach these sexual treats through artful seduction is lucky in love indeed.

Libra

Sex is often mental for air sign and Libra is no exception. Their passion is unfathomable and it is very difficult to keep up with them. Only the brave need apply! They are aggressive lovers and sex can be quite a wild experience with them. Libra loves the thought of a gifted and attractive partner, since they feel their partner is receiving just that. Libras love seduction and foreplay, and plenty of talk leading to some hot action. If this is all achieved in the right luxurious setting, watch out!

Scorpio

The Sex God of the Zodiac has quite a lot to live up to! The sexual competence and drive of those born under this sign is legendary. If you want to ride a tiger to an emotional and sexual crescendo, jump on the curvy back of the sleek Scorpio. The Scorpio lover has an almost hyper natural libido, and loves giving sensual pleasure, although receiving it is nice, too. Variety as the spice of life is the golden rule here, and Scorpio loves to choreograph the scene for maximum mutual satisfaction. Any lover stepping into this please be ready, since keeping up is a must. Scorpions adore a lover who can go on forever without being tired and without wanting to stop. One more thing Scorpio wants foreplay every day, every time and all the time.

Sagittarius

The archer is a fire sign at least where sex is concerned. Sex for them is pure fun and a passionate experience, which has got nothing to do with emotional bonding. In other words, these folks are always ready! And not shy. Sagittarians like to enjoy many an erotic experience and prefer change all the time. Their great libido also lends itself best to an artistic and graceful lover, qualities they very much admire. Trying new things is also often on the Archer's mind, and when their lover says sex on the beach, they had best not be referring to a fruity drink. The Sagittarian's thirst for knowledge is often quenched through straight talk in bed, a way to combine two of their favorite pleasures.

Capricorn

Though Capricorns look shy but behind that shy exterior hides the most passionate and sexually active lover who waits to be discovered. Splendor beneath the sheets is likely to be a straight-ahead affair for the Sea Goat, since this practical Earth sign doesn't need anything flashy or fancy to get aroused. The arousal here is from being happily in love, since love and sex do go hand in hand for Capricorn. The Sea Goat is a persistent, passionate and loyal lover, so whoever is on the receiving end is in for a guaranteed good time. Their partner has to be understanding, strong and attractive. They love foreplay and prefer to be on top.

Aquarius

Sex for them is a connection through the heart and mind rather than just passion and fun. If they can share and discuss their thoughts with their lover, matters in bed will be greatly enhanced. Their natural curiosity will also lead them to experiment with creative play between the sheets, so watch out! They love a partner who is loving, caring and will discuss matters with them openly without holding back anything. For them sincerity and loyalty is very important. A lover who can convince them of the pleasure principle will set this sexual being free.

Pisces

Sex is an emotional affair for the Fish, as is the case with much of their lives. Pisces is a sensual and creative lover, adoring playful sex and always living in a life full of fantasies. Shyness goes out the door, if it's the bedroom door we're talking about! The Fish has a great appetite for sex and loves to keep things fluid and changeable. If their lover can indulge them in flights of fancy, they'll be prepared all night long. The Fish also loves to please their lover, so this union will definitely sizzle for two. As for the sexiest kind of play, it's in the water for the wet and wild Fish.
